

M2si

"Unburstable power in reserve"

Visit the website

- The M2si doesn't power speakers, it drives them.
- The surprising low end heft that it possesses is filled out a little further and then controlled with an immediacy that makes material sound more convincing.
- Good bass is and always has been about more than being smacked in the ribcage (although, I won't deny it helps) and the M2Si has great bass.
- The tonality is also extremely good.
- The M2si can handle speakers that I'd be reluctant to suggest using with many similarly priced rivals.
- This is a tremendously capable piece of kit that's a pleasure to live with and demonstrates how a bit of extra heft goes a long way. The M2si is stripped back but it still delivers the essence of Musical Fidelity and for this reason it's an easy Best Buy.